Coast to Coast

The Coast to Coast walk was created by the celebrated fell walker and guidebook writer Alfred Wainwright. Probably best known for his legendary Pictorial Guides to the Lakeland Fells, Wainwright completed his trek across the width of England in 1972. The following year the Westmorland Gazette published his handwritten guide. Since then the Coast to Coast Path has established itself as one of England's classic long distance walks. It travels 190 miles, from the sea cliffs of St Bees on the Irish Sea, to the fishing village of Robin Hood's Bay on the North Sea. The quality and variety of this walk is recognised internationally, with walkers travelling from around the globe to complete the walk.

As the route traverses the country, your two-week journey will take you through three national parks and over a real cross-section of England's most dramatic landscapes. You'll walk among the highest fells and alongside the largest lakes, through delightful woodland and over windswept moorland.

The Coast to Coast begins in the Lake District, taking in deep sided valleys, lake shores and tough mountain passes. There are a number of considerably steep sections here that will certainly test your stamina. Thankfully there's a fine selection of tea rooms and cafés where you can treat yourself to a walkers reward. Next is the limestone country of the Yorkshire Dales, famous for its intricate field patterns and dry stone walls. The Dales topography is less extreme than that of the Lakes. The old market town of Richmond marks the end of the Dales, before the path crosses the Vale of York and rises over the sometimes remote, moorland hills of the North York Moors.

Sufficiently challenging and hugely rewarding, it's little wonder that fifty years on from its conception, the Coast to Coast remains one of the most popular long distance walks in England.

Essential Info

Length	Length 6 - 18 nights
Full Route Length	190 miles / 303 km
Shortest Break Length	82 miles / 131 km

Grade

Challenging

This is a long trail with some remote and mountainous sections. It is however completed by thousands of ordinary people every year. A degree of walking fitness, the right equipment and common sense should get you there!

Bad weather can be encountered, even in the summer months, so the ability to navigate is essential. You may be lucky enough to encounter warm, dry weather over the whole route and enjoy dry paths and tremendous views. Although you must always be prepared because the weather can change quickly. Good clothing and waterproofs are essential!

Terrain: The walk passes over some of the high fells of the Lake District and over open, often remote moorland in the Dales and North York Moors.

What's it like underfoot? Most of the route is on well defined, not overly challenging paths... but not all of it! The route takes paths which are at times muddy, wet, rough, and steep (although not often all at the same time)!

How Much Up & Down? Lots, especially through the mountains of the Lake District during the first week. Most days in the first week involve climbs of between 1500 and 2000 ft (300 - 650m). From Shap onwards, ascents are shorter, but can still be up to 1000ft (300m) a day.

Signposting: Most of the route is not signposted.

Navigation: You must be able to navigate with a map and compass – the section through the Lake District involves remote mountain terrain with no signposts.

Route

St Bees to Grasmere - Into the Heart of the Lake District

The route starts on the shores of the Irish Sea in the village of St Bees. After climbing the impressive sandstone cliffs of the headland, the path turns inland and over agricultural land and foothills to Ennerdale Bridge and the start of the Lake District. The path continues up Ennerdale beneath Pillar Rock, before climbing up to Brandreth, high in the fells with fantastic views of Great Gable and the Buttermere valley.

The route then drops into Borrowdale via Honister. With another day of climbing as the trail heads up the remote Greenup Gill and then down either the valley of Far Easedale or over the Lion and the Lamb, to Grasmere. This is a memorable day with views of Lakeland fells in all directions.

Grasmere to Kirkby Stephen - Eastern Lakes & Upper Eden

From Grasmere there is more climbing - the route lies over the Helvellyn range either over the pass at Grisedale tarn, or for the more adventurous, via the summit of Helvellyn, England's 3rd highest mountain, before dropping down to Patterdale on the shore of Ullswater. The remotest walking of the tour leads from Ullswater over Kidsty Pike, a tremendous viewpoint of the Lakeland fells then down to Haweswater and onwards to Shap.

Having left the Lakes, the route between Shap and Kirkby Stephen is undulating rather than mountainous, following limestone scarps and moorland paths. It passes the delightful village of Orton and travels onwards past numerous prehistoric sites to the market town of Kirkby Stephen.

Kirkby Stephen to Richmond – The Yorkshire Dales

After Kirkby Stephen the route climbs up to Nine Standards, moorland, high above the Eden valley, then onwards into Swaledale, one of the longest and quietest areas of the Yorkshire Dales. The route crosses open moorland above the steep sided valley, punctuated by limestone dry stone walls and field barns. Then between the upland sections the route drops into the valley to follow delightful stretches of riverside path and passes through the charming farming villages of Keld and Reeth.

Closer to Richmond, the moorlands give way to woodlands. Richmond is a bustling market town and is the largest settlement on the route, worthy of a day off to explore, with its cobbled market place, overlooked by the castle originally built in the 11th Century.

Richmond to Osmotherley – 'The Flat Bit'

This is the only point in its entire length of the Coast to Coast path where you spend a considerable time at low altitude in relatively flat countryside. The route, which is often on country lanes mainly passes through agricultural land as it crosses the Vale of Mowbray.

Osmotherley to Blakey – North York Moors

Osmotherley marks the start of the North York Moors. After visiting the delightful village of Osmotherley, the route climbs

w: www.mickledore.co.uk

through woodlands and on to the moors. It then follows the steep northern edge of the moors, affording panoramic views to the north, as it undulates steeply. Gritstone outcrops and heather moorland are populated by grouse which provide added interest. After Great Broughton/Urre there is the last big climb of the route which leads to Urre Moor, around the head of pretty Farndale and begins the long descent to the coast. (The turn off for Great Broughton & Urre is where our accommodation is situated).

Blakey to Robin Hoods Bay – Country Villages & the North Sea

With the upland part of the route completed the route descends to the River Esk at Glaisdale, which it follows downstream to Egton Bridge and Grosmont, thought by many to be the prettiest villages on the route. Littlebeck, and its accompanying woodland, provide a final taste of picture postcard countryside before more agricultural land leads to the sea cliffs, which are followed south to Robin Hoods Bay, a fishing village famed for its narrow, steep streets, and characteristic roofscapes.

Additional Days

Grasmere

Grasmere is a great location to spend a well earned rest day. Grasmere is a charming village right in the heart of the Lake District National Park. It was once the home of the famous poet William Wordsworth; today you can visit two of his former homes - Dove Cottage and Rydal Mount. Also in the centre of Grasmere is St. Oswald's Church, the churchyard of which contains the Wordsworth family graves. The village itself has narrow bustling streets with cafes, shops and pubs. The frequent local bus service connects Grasmere with Keswick and Ambleside if you want to explore further into the Lakes.

Patterdale

Patterdale offers spectacular scenery in a peaceful location. Boat trips can be taken on the Lake Ullswater Steamers to Pooley Bridge. This tiny village in the heart of the English Lake District will give you a well earned rest before heading onwards on your walking route.

Kirkby Stephen

Kirkby Stephen is a traditional market town of historic buildings, cobbled yards, quaint corners and interesting shops. It is surrounded by a landscape of pastoral rural scenery and wild uplands. Being remote from large towns and population centres, Kirkby Stephen has developed a strong and self-sufficient identity and a vibrant sense of community.

Richmond

Richmond is a historic market town, dominated by the Norman Castle, which is open daily. It sits on a hill above the town, with great views over the Dales. There are regular markets and quite a few places to enjoy a meal and a cup of coffee. There's also a lovely riverside walk. It's by far the biggest town on the Coast to Coast, and a very pleasant place to spend a day. If you're only taking one rest day, make this it!

Robin Hood's Bay

This picturesque village is a hidden gem on the East Yorkshire Coast consisting of a maze of tiny streets with individual shops, cafes and pubs and a tradition of smuggling - there is reputed to be a network of subterranean passageways linking the houses. During the late 18th century smuggling was rife on the Yorkshire coast. The rocks of Robin Hood's Bay play host to a wealth of Jurassic history and fossilising is a wonderful activity for people of all ages along the huge, unspoilt beach. Likewise, the thrill of finding your first crab or starfish in a rock pool is equally as pleasurable.

Client Feedback

We're proud of our reputation for quality holidays. There are plenty of customer reviews on our Website but here's a couple of comments to give you a flavour:

Greetings from Canada, we send our special thank you for all your hard work in putting together our 'Coast to Coast' trip. The trekking was hard but our B&B's were very nice. We met a lot of wonderful people along the way and had much fun in the pubs.

Waldemar Sambor, North Vancouver Canada.

Dear All, thank you so much for a wonderfully organised holiday. Everything was superb. The attention to detail was brilliant and made a long hard walk so much more enjoyable. Thank you. Would you use Mickledore again? Yes, and I'll recommend you to anyone. Brilliant service. Thank you.

Helen Finlay, Hampshire UK

Every arrangement made by Mickledore went smoothly. The hosts and accommodations were extremely well-vetted. We also felt we chose the right tour in terms of distance, the route, and the number of days (including the rest day which we used to much advantage, being able to take our time at Vindolanda). We found the hike challenging, but not overwhelming and we will highly recommend Mickledore to anyone who considers such tours.

Michael Pesch, Minnesota USA

All arrangements and planning responses were handled effectively and efficiently. Accommodation and baggage transfer all excellent and all went to plan. Very useful information provided about places to eat and where shops etc were located. Thanks for a great holiday we really enjoyed it.

Andrew & Christine Snell, Wiltshire UK

Holidays have been great adventures and experiences. That is underpinned by the confidence we have in the structure that Mickledore have in place for the trip. Everything/ everyone proved reliable.

Mrs Palmer, Kent

The holiday was well organised and everything ran smoothly. Having met other walkers on the trail either "going it alone" or using other tour operators I think Mickledore seems better in comparison especially on accommodation and taxi transfers. Keep up the good work.
